Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

It takes years to build your credit history, which I did entrust to Experian, They did not take reasonable actions to protect my credit history. I never approved for them to share my credit history unless it was buried in legal jargon. They stated that they are there for their customers, and they are in it for the all mighty $$$$$. They profit BILLIONS each year from selling people's information & if needed they need to spend BILLIONS per year to protect us. We have no choice but to have Experian keep our credit history and this irresponsibility needs to set a benchmark on what companies need to provide to customers. They have entered this lawsuit with dirty hands & they need to be forced to pay for their haphazard practices and be made an example of what the Constitution grants Americans

Your Honor, I object to the ridiculous requirements Equifax is requiring to issue a $10 check. I spent hours in the phone trying to clear a credit card breach and in the end lost more than 200 dollars. Now Equifax wants to give me credit monitoring? That's closing the barn door after my expensive horse runs away. I want Equifax to pay more than just their lawyers I documented my time and costs and now I'm going to get 10 dollars maybe

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Inadequate ☒

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I am unable to attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

I believe that the proposed reduction in settlement payments to be unreasonable, and that it will result in an inadequate punitive action towards Equifax. The personal information of myself and other class members has been publically and permanently exposed due to Equifax's negligence, the damages of which cannot be quantified. This shrinkage of the settlement amount would result in nothing more than a slap on the wrist for this multi-billion dollar corporation.

In re: Equifax Inc. Customer Data Security Breach Litigation

Case No. 1:17-md-2800-TWT

Michael Kloc

124 White Pine Court, Macon, GA, USA

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☒ Unduly burdensome ☒
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☒

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I am unable to attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

The settlement is too low for the risk that my credit information has breached.

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I am unable to attend the settlement hearing in person.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

The settlement is totally and completely inadequate, given the tremendous financial risk that Equifax has exposed me to.

In re: Equifax Inc. Customer Data Security Breach Litigation

Case No. 1:17-md-2800-TWT

Pamela Aylor

1517 Emerald Dunes Dr. Sun City Center, Florida. 33573

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☐ Unduly burdensome ☐
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☐

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I will not attend the settlement hearing in person.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

This settlement amount is a joke! We deserve better

In re: Equifax Inc. Customer Data Security Breach Litigation

Case No. 1:17-md-2800-TWT

Donald James

1758 LA PLAYA Dr, Lafayette, Ca, 94549

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☐ Unduly burdensome ☐
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☐

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I will not attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

This current settlement, when all effected parties file, will reduce the settlement dramatically. This company gets our personal data for free, then sells it, and has been reckless in protecting it. If asked, what would I sell my personal data for, it would be many many multiples of $125. Equifax is getting off lightly, credit monitoring doesn't mean they won't fail to protect pur information, we'll just be notified of the breach sooner. Many more reasons for the objection, but need to really decide on this one. The settlement is in adequate and doesn't deter them from allowing this again, as there's no pain. Respectfully,
Donald James

Equifax paying only $10 per person who was effected by the data breach is a joke. That is a slap on the wrist to this company who is more than able to pay a higher amount to compensate consumers for the problems resulting from the selling of their data unknowingly. I am disgusted that the suggestion of $10 a person is good enough for the trouble this has caused.

In re: Equifax Inc. Customer Data Security Breach Litigation

Case No. 1:17-md-2800-TWT

Shaun Sheridan

214 Pine Circle
Benton, Arkansas
72015

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☒ Unduly burdensome ☒
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☒

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I may attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

I do not believe that they should just get off with a slap on the hand. This organization makes up 1/3rd of the companies that make the most important financial decisions in all of our lives and for them to drop the ball with a lack of security makes me feel like I am honestly being financially discriminated against due to the fact my credit score has been compromised along with all of my personal information. Not only should those of us who had there personal information stolen be compensated with a great deal of monetary gain, we should also be allowed to have our credit scores moved up to the minimum of 700. If this situation was reversed and I had stolen information from them I would have the book thrown at me criminally as well as civilly.

It seems incredulous how the data breach could be trivialized into a $10 settlement especially when the opportunity is still out there to destroy someone's credit since once your information is out there is never goes away, it is always available to those who would seek to do damage and steal.

To the The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.,

I already have a credit and data monitoring service comparable to Equifax's. I did want the service I have - it was provided to me in lieu of something I value when my data was lost by another entity.

I do not want another credit monitoring service - especially from a company I have never voluntarily interacted with and do not trust. Nor do I want a paltry fraction of the Equifax settlement. Please enforce the law to the extent of your discretion, especially since the responsible government agencies have so clearly been captured.

Respectfully, Kenny Black

In re: Equifax Inc. Customer Data Security Breach Litigation

Case No. 1:17-md-2800-TWT

Mary Ford

124 Jeppson Road Southeast, Huntsville, AL, USA

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☒ Unduly burdensome ☒
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☒

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I am unable to attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

I object to the Equifax class action settlement. Equifax has made money selling my private financial information without my permission for many years. They do not remove errors in credit information even when proof of errors is provided. But when they make bad decisions that can lead to financial ruin of millions of people there needs to be stronger message sent to Equifax. This class action settlement is inadequate. When I first heard that each person affected by the security breach to Equifax's computers I thought it was better than nothing. But now that I have found out that people are receiving only a small percentage of that $125.00. I will not be making my justified class to this sham of a settlement. I do hope that this settlement will be reconsidered in and adjusted.

This company makes millions from selling my information. I think they should pay more for their data breach. They are intrusted with millions of Social Security numbers of Americans. Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

You cannot engage in life in the US without having your information in the credit bureaus. They must be held accountable for the level of harm here. If Equifax went bankrupt because of this I would be satisfied that we'd sent the appropriate message to its competitors about the gravity of letting our information leak.

I get scam phone calls weekly now from callers who HAVE MY SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER, this never happened before the breach. I will need asset protection (From a vendor who is not as clueless as Equifax) for my entire life if I hope to avoid losing money to identity theft. The court should take a hard-line stance here and ensure this never happens again.

Due to this data breach, I have spent hundreds of hours at this point trying to deal with the repercussions and continual (to this day) attempts to access my credit. I truly feel that Equifax holds people hostage. We have never given them permission to collect information on us, yet they do. They collect wrong information all the time and it takes an act of Congress to get anything corrected, if you even can. They sell our information without our consent and then they do not secure our information against thieves.

Equifax should be held responsible for their lack of due diligence and not just a slap on the wrist, which is a slap in the face to every individual whose information was stolen.

Thank you for your time and consideration of my objection.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

This class potentially contains very nearly 150 million Americans. It is laughable to assume that such a small fine for such gross negligence will serve as any sort of deterrent for other corporations to abuse our privacy rights. Frankly, I find the original settlement insulting, embarrassing, and I strongly question the judgement and motives of those who came to that agreement.

The original settlement amount of $125 per person was low to begin with and now after filling out so many different forms with short deadlines, I will end up only receiving a fraction of the original amount. My time was worth more than the small amount now offered. This company is clearly getting off the hook very easily.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

People's lives are judged by credit reports. You cannot get a place to live or a car without a decent score. For Equifax to have literally thousands of people most private information to be let out to the world is not right. I know, for myself, I have worked hard to be a good citizen, pay my bills and have a decent score to reflect that. Why should I have to suffer because of someone wanting to take the easy way and steal? Or better yet, someone be lazy, and let access to be given to anyone? If that is the case, let's just do away with the credit score all together!

Equifax acts as if they have no responsibility in this. To date, I do not recall even so as much as an apology from them over this. For them to admit they screwed up would mean more than anything.

Equifax makes billions every year. To settle this for $5 a head is just a slap on their wrist. I do not want to see them (and other companies) view such a small settlement as just a cost of doing business. They need to hurt a bit for failing to protect my and others' social security numbers so that they do not do this again! The original settlement was announced at $125 or more for each person. This would be a more meaningful hit on the company and make them rethink their practices. The current $5 settlement proposal seems like a bait and switch in the hopes no one was paying attention. But, we are! The privacy our social security numbers is worth much more than $5 to me. It is worth more than $125 to me but I would settle for that amount.

These security breaches happen all the time. I get that. But the fact that Equifax, who should be even safer than most, and this company who profits from this information and profits from protecting it should receive more than a slap on the wrist. Make them feel this error, so maybe they, as well as companies like them, will work harder to protect our information. The fact that they offer credit monitoring instead of a monetary payment is both laughable and insulting.

In re: Equifax Inc. Customer Data Security Breach Litigation

Case No. 1:17-md-2800-TWT

Alan Wendt

1517 N Wilmot #306, Tucson, AZ, 85712

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☐ Unduly burdensome ☐
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☐

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I am unable to attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

The total settlement amount is to be divided by the number of claimants and the expected payout per claimant does not come close to equitable compensation.
